

2010 International Guest Scholars selected

During the 95th annual Clinical Congress in Chicago, IL, the Board of Regents awarded nine International Guest Scholarships for 2010.

This program, administered by the College's International Relations Committee, enables talented young academic surgeons from countries other than the U.S. or Canada to attend and participate in the activities of the Clinical Congress. The Scholars also make tours of surgical institutions in North America that are specially tailored to their interests.

The 2010 International Guest Scholars are as follows: Laurent Brunaud, MD, Vandoeuvre les Nancy, France (Abdol Islami Scholar); Jorge G. Curi

Lehmann, MD, Montevideo, Uruguay; Ruben H. Hovhannisyan, MD, Yerevan, Armenia; Toru Ikegami, MD, Fukuoka, Japan; Anil Mandhani, MB, BS, Lucknow, India; Michel Michaelides, BSc, MB, BS, MD, London, United Kingdom (Louis Argenta Scholar); Eduardo E. Montalvo-Javé, MD, FACS, Mexico City, Mexico; Simon Ng, MB, BS, FRCS(Ed), Shatin, Hong Kong, China; and Tezazu

Teffera Tekle, MD, Hawassa, Ethiopia.

The requirements for applicants for the 2011 International Guest Scholarships will appear in a future edition of the Bulletin. Requirements are posted in English, French, and Spanish on the College's Web site at <http://www.facs.org/memberservices/research.html>. The due date for all application materials is July 1.

Correction
