CONTENTS

ABOUT THE AMERICAN COLLEGE OF SURGEONS

The American College of Surgeons (ACS) is dedicated to improving the care of the surgical patient and safeguarding standards of care in an optimal and ethical practice environment. The ACS is the largest organization of surgeons in the world. It is the single strongest voice for surgeons in all specialties and, since its founding in 1913 by surgeons from the United States and Canada, has been at the forefront of providing quality care for surgical patients and supporting surgeons wherever they practice.

In 2025, the ACS launched a new strategic plan to, among other things:

- Advance surgical excellence and innovation
- Empower healthcare professionals with data-driven insights
- Deliver timely, evidence-based training and education
- Accelerate the agile delivery of products and programs
- Protect and advance surgeons' roles as leaders of the care team
- Advocate for policies and practices that uphold member integrity and foster patient trust

FACS Designation

The FACS designation (Fellow, American College of Surgeons) after a surgeon's name means that the surgeon's education and training, professional qualifications, surgical competence, and ethical conduct have undergone a rigorous evaluation and have been found to be consistent with the high standards established and demanded by the College.

THE HOUSE OF SURGERY®

Great Mace

Presented as a gift of goodwill in 1920 from 61 British surgeons who worked alongside American surgeons in World War I, the Great Mace debuted at the 1920 ACS Annual Meeting in Montreal. The Great Mace is a symbol of fellowship, and its presentation during the procession at the Convocation Ceremony of the ACS Clinical Congress has been a tradition for more than 100 years.

Convocation

The first Convocation Ceremony was held on November 13, 1913, at the Congress Hotel in Chicago, Illinois. The inaugural class was composed of 1,059 surgeons from the US and Canada. The 2025 class has 2,122 initiates; 1,293 from the US and Canada and 829 from other countries.

The ACS Board of Regents is honored to confer Fellowship on the 2025 Initiates and welcomes them to the American College of Surgeons. Congratulations to all!

50-YEAR AND 25-YEAR INITIATE CLASSES

With the engagement and support of more than 90,000 surgeons, residents, medical students, and members of the surgical team around the globe, the College wishes to recognize the initiate classes from 1975 and 2000.

We congratulate these Fellows on their milestone anniversaries, and we thank them for their dedication to the College, their contributions to surgery, and their commitment to the ACS motto “To Heal All With Skill and Trust.”

“Participation in the ACS provides not only excellent education but also the opportunity to be involved in myriad activities that are important to surgery in general and to meet and interact with an amazing number of brilliant and dynamic people. Lasting relationships and future opportunities will result and greatly add to your professional growth, satisfaction, and pride in your profession—regardless of your surgical discipline.”

Jerry Goldstone, MD, FACS, Vascular Surgeon
San Francisco, CA
50-YEAR ACS

“Becoming a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons represents a prestigious recognition of my commitment to the highest standards of ethical conduct, surgical excellence, and professional development. It affirms my dedication to lifelong learning, patient-centered care, and leadership in advancing the field of surgery. Earning the FACS designation enhanced my professional credibility, helped foster collaboration within a respected community of peers, and reinforced my imperative to uphold the core values of integrity, accountability, and continuous improvement in surgical practice.”

Gavin Setzen, MD, FACS, Otolaryngologist

HONORARY FELLOWSHIPS

Conferral of Honorary Fellowship in the American College of Surgeons began in 1913 upon the ACS's founding. Individuals selected for Honorary Fellowship generally practice outside of the United States and possess an international reputation in the field of surgery or have provided distinguished humanitarian service in the field of medical science. Since its founding, the ACS has bestowed Honorary Fellowship to more than 518 surgeons from 47 countries around the world. This year, Honorary Fellowship will be conferred upon seven prominent surgeons.

Hendrik Jacob (Jaap) Bonjer, MD, PhD, FACS, FRCS, FASCRS | Amsterdam, the Netherlands

Surgical Specialty: Minimally Invasive and Endocrine Surgery

Sponsored by: Aurora D. Pryor, MD, MBA, FACS

Dr. Jaap Bonjer is a prolific surgeon-scientist and innovator in surgical simulation-based education.

Royal Netherlands Navy Reserves and chair of the Departments of Surgery, Orthopaedic Surgery and Sports Medicine, Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery, Urology, and Emergency Medicine at the Amsterdam University Medical Centre in the Netherlands.

He earned his medical degree at the University of Leiden in the Netherlands. Dr. Bonjer completed a residency aboard the Hr. Ms. Haarlem and via the Royal Netherlands Navy Hospital in Overveen, the Rode Kruis Ziekenhuis in the Hague, University Hospital Rotterdam, and St. Clara Ziekenhuis in Rotterdam, all in the Netherlands, plus 1 year of research in the Department of Pathology and Maine Cytometry Research Institute at Maine Medical Center in Portland. He later attained an executive master of health business administration degree from Erasmus University in Rotterdam.

Dr. Bonjer's career included multiple roles in the Department of Surgery at University Hospital Rotterdam Dijkzigt, before he moved to the position of Endowed Chair in Endoscopic Surgery at Erasmus University, also in Rotterdam. He additionally held multiple leadership roles within the Department of Surgery, Department of Intensive Care, and Skills Lab there. He later moved to Dalhousie University in Halifax, Canada, where he served as a professor of surgery, director of minimally invasive surgery, surgical leader of the Renal Transplantation Program at Capital Health, and later chair of the Department of Surgery for the Capital District Health Authority. He remains an adjunct professor at Dalhousie University, as well as a commander of the

Dr. Bonjer has been a visionary in simulation in surgical education. He initiated several surgical education programs, including the Skills Lab Erasmus MC at Erasmus University and the Skills Centre for Health Sciences in Halifax. In 2017, Dr. Bonjer became CEO of the Amsterdam Skills Centre for Health Sciences, which trains more than 7,000 healthcare professionals annually. In 2019, he received the Amsterdam Impact Award for Life Sciences for founding this center.

Dr. Bonjer has been president of the European Association for Endoscopic Surgery and Dutch Society of Surgery and an honorary member of the several national surgical societies. He was a principal investigator on the colorectal and hernia surgery trials (COLOR, COLOR II, COLOR III, COLIBRI, and INCH), comparing laparoscopic vs. open surgery. He has published more than 300 articles, has edited six books, and often speaks at international conferences. He serves as editor-in-chief of Surgical Endoscopy.

Chintamani, MBBS, FACS, FRCS(Ed), FRCS(Eng), FRCS(Glas), FRCSI, FICS, FIMSA | New Delhi, India

Surgical Specialty: General Surgery

Sponsored by: Pankaj Kumar Arora, MBBS, FACS

Dr. Chintamani, who follows an Indian tradition by using one name, is a prominent breast surgeon and surgical oncologist, as well as researcher and educator.

He earned his medical degree at Jawaharlal Nehru Medical College in Aligarh, India, and currently chairs the Department of Surgical Oncology at Sir Ganga Ram Hospital in New Delhi, India. Previously, he headed the Department of Surgery and was chief of breast and endocrine services at Vardhman Mahavir Medical College of Safdarjung Hospital, also in New Delhi, where he supervised and educated hundreds of surgical trainees.

Dr. Chintamani has published more than 160 scientific papers and 13 books and book chapters, and he is a frequent presenter at national and international conferences. He is editor-in-chief of Breast Global Journal and Surgery Digest and previously was chair and editor-in-chief of the Indian Journal of Surgery and joint editor of the Indian Journal of Oncology. Additionally, Dr. Chintamani maintains a YouTube channel through which he has published more than 300 operative and clinical training videos.

He has held several leadership positions within the American College of Surgeons, including as President of the ACS India Chapter, a role during which he helped recruit the then-largest number of initiates from any country to ACS Fellowship. He has represented India on the ACS Board of Governors (BoG) and served on the BoG Education Pillar and Surgical Training Workgroup.

Dr. Chintamani is the founding director of Breast Global and a member of the board of directors of the Indian Cancer Genome Atlas. He has held many other leadership roles, including as the national secretary of the Association of Surgeons of India and a member of the governing council of that organization. He has been president of the Association of Breast Surgeons of India, Delhi Chapter of the Association of Surgeons of India, and Indian Society of Wound Management. Dr. Chintamani was the founding president of the Asian Society of Mastology, is a fellow of the Royal Society of Medicine (UK), and is an international surgical advisor and examiner for the Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh. In recognition of his work, he has received many awards, including the Indian Medical Association's National Excellence Award.

Luis Grande, MD, PhD, FACS, ESA, RAMC | Barcelona, Spain

Surgical Specialty: General/Transplantation Surgery

Sponsored by: E. Moreno Gonzalez, MD, FACS(Hon), FASA(Hon), AFC(Hon), APC(Hon), IAS(Hon)

Dr. Luis Grande, a leading surgeon focused on foregut and hepato-pancreato-biliary (HPB) surgery and liver transplant, is the emeritus chair of surgery at Hospital del Mar and an emeritus professor at Autonomous University in Barcelona, Spain.

He obtained his MD and PhD degrees at the University of Barcelona and then completed general and digestive surgical residency in the Department of Surgery of the Hospital Clinic in Barcelona. He also completed a fellowship in liver transplantation at the University of Pittsburgh in Pennsylvania with Thomas E. Starzl, MD, PhD, FACS.

Dr. Grande held positions of increasing rank at the Hospital Clinic of the University of Barcelona before moving to the Hospital del Mar of the Autonomous University of Barcelona. There, he occupied the elected position of director of the surgery service and later became a full professor at the Autonomous University of Barcelona.

He has conducted research on gastroesophageal reflux disease, liver preservation for transplantation, liver lesion ablation, and other gastrointestinal, esophageal, and liver disease topics. His output includes 38 book chapters, 460 articles, more than 650 lectures (including 125 invited international and named lectureships), and an h-index near the top of global research impact. Dr. Grande also holds a patent and has commercial relationships related to the development of ablation instrumentation.

Dr. Grande has received many awards, fellowships, international fellowships, and honorary fellowships at 20 surgical societies. He is a member of the Royal Academy of Medicine of Catalonia, Spain.

He has held many leadership positions, including as a member of the Board of Directors of the Parc de Salut Mar and the Institut Hospital del Mar de Investigacions Mèdiques, director of teaching and innovation of the Parc de Salut Mar, and an advisory member of the Oncology Master Plan of the Generalitat de Catalunya. For the ACS, he currently represents Spain on the Board of Governors and serves on the Best Practices Workgroup and the Quality, Research, and Optimal Patient Care Pillar.

Cathal J. Kelly, MB, BCH, BAO, LRCSI & PI, BSc, MCh,
FRCSI (Gen) | Drogheda, Ireland

Surgical Specialty: Vascular Surgery

Sponsored by: Hilary A. Sanfey, MB, BCH, MHPE, FACS, FRCSI, FRCSEd(Hon)

RCSI University of Medicine and Health Sciences in Dublin, Ireland.

He graduated from the RCSI Medical School and became an RCSI fellow 5 years later. Dr. Kelly completed surgical training in the Irish National Surgical Training Program and a 2-year research fellowship with John Daly, MD, FACS, at the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia. While a trainee, he won numerous awards, including the Patey Prize. His education also includes a master in business administration degree from INSEAD at the Instituto de Empresa in Madrid, Spain.

For several years, Dr. Kelly was a consultant vascular surgeon at Beaumont Hospital in Dublin; he also held positions as director of the Intermediate Cycle of the Undergraduate Medical Program, vice-dean for curriculum change, and director of the research laboratory at Beaumont Hospital.

In 2006, Dr. Kelly became dean of the RCSI Medical School, through which he led the medical school in Ireland, Bahrain, and Malaysia. During his tenure, RCSI established Ireland's first graduate-entry medical education program and pioneered Irish Government-sponsored collaboration of RCSI with the College of Surgeons of East, Central, and Southern Africa. The latter program has helped educate more than 750 surgeons in 10 sub-Saharan African countries.

In 2009, Dr. Kelly was appointed CEO of RSCI. He has contributed to RSCI, receiving degree-awarding status from the National University of Ireland and subsequent full university status. As inaugural vice-chancellor, Dr. Kelly has overseen undergraduate and postgraduate programs in medicine, nursing, physiotherapy, pharmacy and biomolecular sciences, physician associate studies, and advanced therapeutic technologies in Dublin, Bahrain, Malaysia, United Arab Emirates, and China. He also launched the RCSI School of Dentistry, the first community-based dental education school in Ireland, and a School of Population Health.

Dr. Kelly has published 75 research papers and given 102 invited lectures and presentations, largely focused on development of surgical practice, advancement of education and research in healthcare, and healthcare quality improvement and assurance.

He also is a recipient of the Moynihan Intercollegiate Medal and an honorary fellowship of the Royal College of Physician and Surgeons of Glasgow.

Dr. Kelly is an international leader who has transformed surgical education and care quality in Ireland and beyond.

Eduardo E. Montalvo-Jave, MD, PhD, FACS | Mexico City, Mexico

Surgical Specialty: Colon and Rectal Surgery

Sponsored by: Carlos A. Pellegrini, MD, FACS, FRCSI(Hon), FRCSEd(Hon), FWACS(Hon)

Dr. Eduardo E. Montalvo-Jave is a leading hepato-pancreato-biliary (HPB) surgeon at the Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México

(UNAM) in Mexico City, Mexico.

Dr. Montalvo-Jave earned his medical degree at UNAM before being a resident and chief resident at Hospital General de México “Dr. Eduardo Liceaga” in Mexico City. He then completed a clinical and research fellowship in transplant surgery at the Thomas E. Starzl Transplantation Institute at the University of Pittsburgh in Pennsylvania, followed by postdoctoral fellowships in transplantation and surgical oncology of the gastrointestinal tract at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota. He also earned a master’s degree in healthcare administration at La Salle University and a PhD in Biomedical Sciences at UNAM.

At UNAM, Dr. Montalvo-Jave has risen to become chair and professor of surgery of the largest and most important Department of Surgery in Mexico. He also is a consultant and staff surgeon in the Division of HPB Surgery at Hospital General de México “Dr. Eduardo Liceaga” and surgeon staff in the Division of General and Endoscopic Surgery at Hospital Medical Sur.

Dr. Montalvo-Jave has published 122 articles and 53 book chapters and presented at hundreds of conferences and surgical courses. His output has focused on development of biomarkers for HPB malignancies and liver fibrosis, ischemia reperfusion injury of the liver and oxidative stress, development of bioprosthesis for bile duct replacement, and mechanisms and causes of bile duct injury. He also participates in HPB and general surgery clinical trials.

He is on the editorial board of major journals in Mexico, including the Journal of the Mexican Academy of Surgery, Surgery and Surgeons (Cirugia y Cirujanos), and Gaceta de México, the journal of the National Academy of Medicine of Mexico and Revista Médica del Hospital General de México. He has edited or co-edited multiple textbooks on HPB, upper gastrointestinal tract disease and surgical education. He also has led 105 undergraduate and graduate courses as professor or associate professor and mentored several medicine, master, and PhD students.

Dr. Montalvo is the current president of the Mexican Association of Endoscopic Surgery (AMCE), Latin American Association of Endoscopic Societies (ALACE), and Local Organizing Committee of the World Congress of Surgery (ISW 2026) of the International Society of Surgery (ISS) in Mexico City. He is a past president of the Mexican Association of the Alimentary Tract and the Medical Society of General Hospital of Mexico, as well as a founder, past president, and current chair of the Board of Trustees of the Mexican Chapter of the Society for Surgery of the Alimentary Tract (SSAT).

Throughout his career, Dr. Montalvo-Jave has won 45 awards, including an ACS International Guest Scholarship (2010). His dedication to clinical care, scientific research, and surgical education continue to inspire others.

Gabriela Möslein, MD, PhD, FEBS, FASCRS(Hon) | Düsseldorf, Germany

Surgical Specialty: Colon and Rectal Surgery

Sponsored by: Steven D. Wexner, MD, PhD(Hon), FACS, FRCS(Eng), FRCS(Ed), FRCSI(Hon), Hon FRCS(Glasg), Hon FRCS(Eng)

Dr. Gabriela Möslein is a renowned authority on the research and treatment of hereditary gastrointestinal tumor syndromes and a pioneer in pouch surgery and continent ileostomy.

She received her MD from the University of Bonn in Germany. She completed a general surgery residency at St. Elisabeth Hospital in Neuwied, Germany, plus a 6-month rotation with Joji Utsunomiya, MD, PhD, in Hyogo, Japan, on pelvic pouch procedure. Dr. Möslein completed fellowships in visceral surgery with Christian Herfarth, MD, FACS(Hon), in Heidelberg, Germany, and Hans-Dietrich Roher, MD, at the University of Düsseldorf in Germany. She also completed a research fellowship with Stephen Thibodeau, PhD, in colorectal cancer genetics at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota, and later received a PhD in surgery.

Dr. Möslein has been a consultant in visceral surgery and coloproctology at the University of Düsseldorf, chair of the Department of Surgery at HELIOS St. Josefs-Klinik in Bochum, Germany, and chair of the Department of Hereditary Tumors at the University of Witten-Herdecke in Helios Universitätsklinikum Wuppertal in Germany. In the latter role, she advanced the field of prophylactic surgery for hereditary conditions, including a focus on less invasive options such as chemoprevention. She later returned to the University of Düsseldorf as head of the Center for Hereditary Tumors at the Academic Hospital Bethesda.

Dr. Möslein has published more than 150 papers on aspects of hereditary colorectal cancer, mutations in the mismatch repair system, polyposis syndromes, chemoprevention, registries, gender diversity, and women in surgery. She also was a steering committee member of the colorectal adenoma/cancer prevention project (CAPP2) trial.

She was an initiator and founding member of the German consortium for the study of heredity nonpolyposis colorectal cancer; a long-term board member and former chair of the International Society for Gastrointestinal Hereditary Tumors, where she also took an active role in the Human Variome Project; and is a founding member and current chair of the European Hereditary Tumor Group. She is a co-initiator and board member of the Prospective Lynch Syndrome Database and has coordinated several guidelines in collaboration with the European Society of Coloproctology (ESCP).

Dr. Möslein has chaired the Surgical Working Group for Molecular Diagnosis and Therapy for CAMO, led the Surgical Working Group on Hereditary Tumors for the German Society for Visceral Surgery, and helped found the German Surgical Society Workgroup for Gender Medicine. She is the program committee chair and general secretary of the ESCP.

Rowan W. Parks, MD, PRCSEd, FRCSEd, FFSTEd | Edinburgh, Scotland

Surgical Specialty: Hepato-Pancreato-Biliary Surgery

Sponsored by: Andrew Tambyraja, MBBS, FACS, FRCSEd

Dr. Rowan Parks is an internationally renowned hepato-pancreato-biliary (HPB) surgeon-scientist, educator, and leader.

director. Dr. Parks also has held many roles in the University of Edinburgh Medical School and currently chairs the Fitness to Practice Committee.

His research output on HPB surgery and surgical education is prolific, including more than 180 papers, 50 book chapters, and 11 surgical textbooks. He has served on many editorial boards and is currently associate editor of the World Journal of Surgery.

Dr. Parks has held leadership positions within numerous surgical societies and healthcare associations. He is a past president of both the Association of Surgeons of Great Britain and Ireland and the Great Britain and Ireland Hepato-Pancreato-Biliary Association, a past director of the James IV Association of Surgeons, and a past treasurer of the European-African Hepato-Pancreato-Biliary Association. He is the current General Secretary of the International Hepato-Pancreato-Biliary Association and president of the Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh.

After receiving his medical degree at Queens University Belfast in Northern Ireland, Dr. Parks completed surgical training at the Royal Victoria Hospital, Belfast City Hospital, Daisy Hill Hospital, and the Ulster Hospital, all in Northern Ireland, followed by a clinical fellowship in HPB surgery at the Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh in Scotland.

He then began a surgical career at the University of Edinburgh and Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh, where he rose to the role of professor of surgical sciences, a role he has held for 15 years.

Dr. Parks is the recipient of more than 40 international awards. Among these were four traveling fellowships in his early career, through which he visited prestigious institutions and conferences (including the ACS Clinical Congress) in the US, South Africa, Australia, Hong Kong, and China. He has since organized many national and international conferences in the UK, as well as in Serbia, South Africa, Brazil, and Switzerland.

He has contributed to surgical education via several roles. Within the NHS Education for Scotland, he has been chair of the General Surgery Specialty Training Committee, associate postgraduate dean, and chair of the Scottish Specialty Training Board for Surgical Specialties; additionally, for 10 years, he served as its deputy medical

DR. MARY EDWARDS WALKER INSPIRING WOMEN IN SURGERY AWARD

This award was established by the ACS Women in Surgery Committee and is presented annually at Clinical Congress in recognition of an individual's significant contributions to the advancement of women in the field of surgery. The award is named for Mary Edwards Walker, MD, the first female surgeon employed by the US Army, the only female recipient of the Congressional Medal of Honor, and a tireless crusader for women's rights.

Anna Marie Ledgerwood, MD, FACS | Detroit, Michigan

In recognition of her unfaltering work in surgery since 1967, Dr. Anna Marie Ledgerwood is the recipient of the Mary Edwards Walker Inspiring Women in Surgery Award.

After earning her medical degree at Marquette University School of Medicine (now known as Medical College of Wisconsin) in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Dr. Ledgerwood completed an internship at Detroit General Hospital (now known as Detroit Receiving Hospital), in Detroit, Michigan. She went on to complete her general surgery residency at the same hospital, which is associated with Wayne State University School of Medicine in Detroit.

She has remained with the Department of Surgery at Detroit Receiving Hospital and Wayne State University since then. There, she has held the position of full professor for more than 40 years and has been the general surgery residency program director and trauma director. She is known as a mentor and advisor to medical students, surgical residents, and junior faculty members, and she continues to take trauma and general surgery call.

Dr. Ledgerwood has held many leadership positions, including as president of the Academy of Surgery of Detroit, Midwest Surgical Association, and The American Association for the Surgery of Trauma. She also has served on the Executive Committee of the Society of Academic Surgery, Education Committee of the Society of University Surgeons, and Medical Committee for Automotive Safety at General Motors. Notably, she was the first female president of the American Surgical Association.

She has had a positive impact at the ACS as President of the Michigan Chapter, member of the Committee on Trauma and Board of Governors, and ACS First-Vice President. She also delivered both the Scudder Oration on Trauma (1996) and the Olga Jonasson Lecture (2008) and was honored as an icon of surgery during Clinical Congress 2018.

Dr. Ledgerwood has broken ground for women in surgery as a mentor and leader, including by serving on the ACS Committee on Women's Issues. As a result, she has been a recipient of the Nina Starr Braunwald Award of the Association of Women Surgeons and a subject of "Making a Difference in Surgery: Women as Leaders" in The World Journal of Surgery.

For her excellence in surgery, she also has won the Trailblazer Award, Lawrence M. Weiner Award, and Munuswamy Dayanandan, MD, Humanitarian Award, all from Wayne State University, as well as an Honorary Alumna Award from the Medical College of Wisconsin.

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE AWARD

The Distinguished Service Award—the highest award given annually by the American College of Surgeons—was established by the Board of Regents in 1957. The Award is in recognition of exceptional and continuous service as an ACS Fellow, as well as a career distinguished by devotion to patient care and the principles and ideals that guide all surgeons in their professional practice.

Marshall Z. Schwartz, MD, FACS | Wayne, Pennsylvania

Dr. Marshall Z. Schwartz, a professor at the Wake Forest Institute for Regenerative Medicine and professor of surgery and urology at the Wake Forest School of Medicine in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, is the 2025 recipient of the ACS Distinguished Service Award.

With more than 40 years of experience and special clinical interests in neonatal surgery, inflammatory bowel disease, and vascular problems in children, his career has included serving as surgeon-in-chief at Children's National Medical Center in Washington, DC; the Child Health Center at The University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston; and St. Christopher's Hospital for Children in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. He also has served as a director of the American Board of Surgery, chair of the Pediatric Surgery Board, a member of the Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education's Residency Review Committee for Surgery, and president of the American Pediatric Surgical Association.

Dr. Schwartz earned his medical degree at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis and completed an internship at NewYork-Presbyterian Weill Cornell Medical Center in New York City. He then completed residencies, including serving as chief resident, in the Department of Surgery at the University of Minnesota Hospital in Minneapolis and the Department of Pediatric Surgery at Boston Children's Hospital/Harvard Medical School in Massachusetts. He also completed a research fellowship at the University of Minnesota and later a certificate in population health at the Thomas Jefferson University School of Public Health in Philadelphia.

His many accolades include an honorary fellowship in the Royal College of Surgeons of England and a University of Minnesota Department of Surgery Alumnus of the Year Award.

Dr. Schwartz's service to the ACS spans many years. He has brought his specialty-specific expertise and leadership to the Advisory Council for Pediatric Surgery, Surgical Forum, Pediatric Surgical Forum, and many other groups, including the ACS Brief Advisory Group in which he continues to participate.

His committee participation and leadership include service on the Patient Education, Member Services, Investment, and Comprehensive Communications Committees. He also was a Member, Vice-Chair, and Chair of the Health Policy and Advocacy Group and Chair of the ACS Advisory Council Chairs. He served as an associate editor of the Journal of the American College of Surgeons from 1996 to 2023.

Most notably, Dr. Schwartz was an ACS Regent (2009–2018), during which he served as Vice-Chair and also participated in the Finance, Honors, and Research and Optimal Patient Care Committees.

This award recognizes his outstanding commitment to the ACS, as well as his unique focus, in the words of one colleague, on "committing his heart and soul to every opportunity to support, lead, and influence all our efforts to fulfill our mission."

OUTGOING PRESIDENT (2024–2025)

Beth H. Sutton, MD, FACS, of Wichita Falls, Texas, is a revered general surgeon who has spent her career in private practice.

For her presidency, Dr. Sutton chose the theme “Excelling Together,” which captures her commitment and that of the ACS to empower surgeons in all career stages, all surgical disciplines, all practice types, and all locations to develop their careers, pursue clinical excellence, and advocate for themselves and their patients.

Dr. Sutton completed medical school at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston, Texas. She then completed an internship at the St. Paul Hospital at The University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center in Dallas and a residency in general surgery at Scott and White Memorial Hospital in Temple, Texas. After completing her training, she established her private practice in Wichita Falls, with hospital appointments at United Regional Health Care System (URHCS) and Kell West Regional Hospital, both of which are also in Wichita Falls.

Her career has also included membership on the Board of Directors of the American Board of Surgery, a past secretary role and presidency at the Texas Surgical Society, a past presidency of the American Cancer Society, and membership in numerous surgical societies and associations.

She has been a leader at the ACS for many years. She first began as a Cancer Liaison Physician for the URHCS Community Cancer Program and soon became a member of the North Texas District 2 Committee on Applicants, holding each position for 24 years. She later became president of the North Texas ACS Chapter and Governor-at-Large representing North Texas. She also has served on more than a dozen ACS committees, including those focused on Healthcare Disparities, Optimal Access/Healthcare Disparities, Professional Opportunities for Senior Members, Women in Surgery, Transition to Practice (Mastery in General Surgery), and Preceptorship for Practicing Surgeons. She has additionally served on the Advisory Council for General Surgery. Her ACS leadership includes 9 years as a member of the Board of Regents, with a year as Chair (2019–2020). She remains a faculty member for the popular Surgeons as Leaders course, a position she has held since 2013.

Dr. Sutton is a four-time winner of the URHCS Department of Surgery Quality Champion Award. At her alma mater, Temple University, she has received the Distinguished Alumna in General Surgery Award. In addition, she is a recipient of the Association of Women Surgeons Foundation’s Nina Starr Braunwald Award for contributions to the advancement of women in surgery. This award recognizes her service on the ACS Women in Surgery Committee, past presidency of the Association of Women Surgeons, and past membership in the Association of Women Surgeons Foundation Board of Trustees.

In her Presidential Address at Clinical Congress 2024, Dr. Sutton emphasized that “We and our patients need each other,” in that comprehensive surgical care of excellent quality is only achievable via the collaboration of surgeons across the spectrum of surgical disciplines.

Via her leadership at the ACS, in her presidency, and for many years, she has been an important part of helping ensure surgeons can excel together.

INCOMING PRESIDENT (2025–2026)

Anton Sidawy, MD, MPH, FACS, is a professor and the Lewis B. Saltz Chair of Surgery at George Washington University in Washington, DC.

He completed his medical degree at Aleppo University School of Medicine in Syria. He then completed a general surgery residency, including a year as administrative chief resident, at Washington Hospital Center, in Washington, DC, and a fellowship in vascular surgery at Boston University Hospital in Massachusetts. He later earned a master's degree in public health at George Washington University.

Dr. Sidawy has spent his career at George Washington University, where he has served in roles from special lecturer in surgery to tenured professor of surgery. He also has served on the Executive Committee of the university's Faculty Senate. In addition, he has worked at Georgetown University in Washington, DC, where he directed the vascular residency program; Howard University in Washington, DC, where he served as clinical professor of surgery; and the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences in Bethesda, Maryland, as a clinical assistant professor of surgery.

An ACS Fellow since 1987 and long-time member of the ACS Metropolitan Washington DC Chapter, Dr. Sidawy also has served as a member of both the Board of Governors (2001-2007) and the Board of Regents (2015–2024), including a year as Chair (2021–2022).

He is a current member of the steering committee of the ACS Academy of Master Surgeon Educators.

A past president of the Society for Vascular Surgery (SVS), Dr. Sidawy led a joint effort by the ACS and SVS to create the Vascular Verification Program, an ACS Quality Program that provides hospitals with critical oversight of their vascular surgery programs. For this work, he received an SVS Presidential Citation.

Dr. Sidawy has held many other leadership positions. These include being a past chair of the Distinguished Fellows Council of SVS; a past president of the Vascular Disease Foundation, Society for Clinical Vascular Surgery, Eastern Vascular Society, Chesapeake Vascular Society, and Washington Academy of Surgery; and a former member of the Vascular Surgery Board of the American Board of Surgery.

Dr. Sidawy has been prolific and influential in scientific publishing. He has authored 170 published research articles and 60 book chapters and made numerous national and international presentations. He has held various editorial positions at the Journal of Vascular Surgery, and while serving as its editor-in-chief, he cofounded the Journal of Vascular Surgery: Venous and Lymphatic Disorders and the Journal of Vascular Surgery: Cases. Dr. Sidawy also has served on the editorial boards of Annals of Vascular Surgery, Vascular, and Perspectives in Vascular Surgery and Endovascular Therapy. He is an editor of the textbooks Basic Science of Vascular Disease; Vascular Surgery (5th and 6th editions); Diabetic Foot, Lower Extremity Vascular Disease, and Limb Salvage; and the 9th, 10th, and the forthcoming 11th editions of Rutherford Vascular Surgery.

For his longstanding excellence in surgery and surgical leadership, Dr. Sidawy was awarded the 2006 LaSalle D. Leffall Jr. Award from the Metropolitan Washington Chapter. He is the namesake of the Anton N. Sidawy Lectureship of the Metropolitan Washington DC Chapter. Similarly, the New York Vascular Surgery Fellows Competition Award, which recognizes outstanding clinical and basic science by a vascular surgical fellow or resident in the eastern US, was named after Dr. Sidawy in 2009.

To his year as ACS President, Dr. Sidawy brings his strong commitment to “improve the practice environment and the quality of surgical care for all in the community at large.”

AMERICAN COLLEGE OF SURGEONS

FELLOWSHIP PLEDGE

Recognizing that the American College of Surgeons seeks to exemplify and develop the highest traditions of our ancient profession, I hereby pledge myself, as a condition of Fellowship in the College, to live in strict accordance with the College's principles and regulations.

I PLEDGE TO PURSUE the practice of surgery with honesty and to place the welfare and the rights of my patient above all else. I promise to deal with each patient as I would wish to be dealt with if I were in the patient's position, and I will respect the patient's autonomy and individuality.

I FURTHER PLEDGE TO AFFIRM and support the social contract of the surgical profession with my community and society.

I WILL TAKE NO PART in any arrangement or improper financial dealings that induce referral, treatment, or withholding of treatment for reasons other than the patient's welfare.

UPON MY HONOR, I declare that I will advance my knowledge and skills, will respect my colleagues, and will seek their counsel when in doubt about my own abilities. In turn, I will willingly help my colleagues when requested.

I RECOGNIZE THE INTERDEPENDENCY of all healthcare professionals and will treat each with respect and consideration.

Finally, by my Fellowship in the American College of Surgeons,

I SOLEMNLY PLEDGE TO ABIDE by the Code of Professional Conduct and to cooperate in advancing the art and science of surgery.
